Aug Leftwitch of Saline said that as Saline County had no representative on the committee, he wished to say that Saline County Democrats were well posted on the currency question and a debate for sixty days would not change their minds. They asked for a convention not later than Aug. 15.

Ex-State Senator Johnson of Montgomery pleaded for a November convention. He gave a review of his democracy, and said that Mr. Cook had no right to question the motives of the men who were asking for delay.

Bill Phelps, "Riley" Hall of Moberly, one of Francis' principal henchmen in the State; Senator Peers of Warren County, author of the famous Peers substitute fellow-servant bill, which was indorsed by the railroads at the last special session of the Legislature, and Representative Buckner of Pike. They had evidently been sent for. Hall was supposed to be Francis' personal representative. It was a great quartette. Hall's district has declared overwhelmingly for a convention August 15, so have all the countles but two in Peers' district, and Buckner's county, Pike, through a regular delegate convention, declared for free silver and a State convention, declared for free silver and a State convention.

These four were all very busy. They held frequent conferences and buttonholed the committeemen. Later Fred Lehman of the Wabash railroad Joined them. Then John Carroll came down stairs and the old gang was very much in evidence.

Phelps took Zeveley upstairs about 9:30 and had a long conference with him. When they came down E. C. Kerr of the St. Louis Sound Money Club put in an appearance and calcussed with them.

Then the plan of the combine began to be whispered about.

It was said that they had given up the idea of making a fight and would vote for a convention August 2. B. Cook said that he would move to make August 2 the data. He did not wish it to appear that the committee was endesvoring to take snap judgment, and was willing to postpone it until the first week in September. If the antisilver men wanted to fix August 3 as the time it must be understood, he said, that it was done with the full understanding thas it was not the desire of the free silver men to shut off a campaign.

Representative Buckner, a single standard man, did not like the August 3 dea. He said that several members of the committee and say so.

The Overwhelming Sale of the Chicago Leader Stock by Siegel, Hillman & Co.
As promised by their advertising yesterday, the sale of the Chicago Leader stock by Biegel, Hillman & Co. is something dif-ferent and far more important than any sale which St. Louis has enjoyed for years. Dense crowds have been the rule all day and the enterprising firm desires to say that they realize that their store is not big enough for their trade, but that every pre-caution has been taken for the comfort of the public and hereafter will try not to close the doors, as they have had to do to-day several times.

Realizing that the Dernberg, Glick & Horner "The Leader" stock of dry goods, suits and millinery is so exceptionally fine merchants all over the country tried to obtain control of it, but Siegel, Cooper & Co. of Chicgo and Siegel, Hillman & Co. of St. Louis took the prize for $255,500 in cash. Knowing that St. Louis appreciates a good thing, Messrs. Siegel, Hillman & Co. shipped a train load of the choicest selecopened for sale this morning. Eleven ad-ditional delivery wagons direct from the bankrupt store, with Dernberg, Glick & Horner's name still on them, have been doing brave service in delivering the enormous stock of bundles. The public promptly re sponded and the sale to-day is a triumpl vill continue all week. To-morrow wil be a great day, as the stock has been arranged and prices cut regardless of value

Valentine Burks, Collector in the Sheriff's office, died Sunday evening at his home, 1818 North Leffingwell avenue. He was attacked with dysentery a week ago, but his condition was not alarming until Sunday morning, just eight hours before he died. He will be buried from the First Methodist Church at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in Bellefontaine Cemeter?

Val Burks's career was a checkered one and no one better than he has illustrated the wisdom of giving every man a chance, even though he be a criminal. In the 70s he had a hand in many a job of safe-blowing, highway robbery and similar depredations. The turning point in his life came when fis met his present wife. She was Miss Mary Ordes, one of a trio of sisters who lived with their mother in the northern part of the city. Misses Henrietta and Sarah Ordes were prominent school teachers here, and Mary Ordes attended to the household duties of the little family.

Her Sundays were spent doing good among the prisoners of the jail. There she met her husband and began her work of reform. While in jail swaiting trial the Legislature passed a law annulling a former status under which Burke was to have been prosecuted, and he was released.

Capt. Mason, who was then Sheriff, gave him a position in his office as clerk, and Miss Mary Ordes joined her fortunes with him and married him. By so doing she separated herself from her family, especially her two sisters, who refused to become recondiled to her marriage with a former terminal.

Beveral years after her marriage her mother, Mrs. Ordes, died at Mrs. Burke's JURY REFORM MADE.

Names Will Not Be Selected Arbitrarily from a Private List.

Term Monday morning and made a change in the rule for the selection of special jur-ors. Lawyers who appear for plaintiffs in complained long and loud that the special jury system, as now operated, was a farce. Their criticisms of the plan were published in the Post-Dispatch recently, and caused much comment. Heretofore the Jury Com-missioner, when ordered to select a special ury venire, took eighteen names in alphaetical order, from a private list of citizens citizens on the list were, almost without exception, officers and attaches of corporations and were prejudiced against damage sults. Lawyers have insisted that special jury venires should be drawn from the wheel, as are petit juries.

The Judges have come around to that interpretation of the law, for Monday they decided that when a special jury is ordered a venire of forty names must be drawn from the wheel from which petit juries are chosen. These forty good men and true will be drapped on account of satisfactory reason for not serving, and in the process of the voir dire examination. From the remaining twenty-seven the attorney for each citizens on the list were, almost without son for not serving, and in the process of the voir dire examination. From the re-maining twenty-seven the attorney for each side will choose nine and from the eighteen thus selected opposing counsel will peremp-torily challenge three aplecs. This will leave twelve men chosen by a method which the Judges think is fair. It is novel and un-like any system in operation elsewhere. The change was made on account of the growth of the complaints since the matter was aired in the Post-Dispatch. The deposit of 77 required to be made for a special jury is ex-pected to cover the expenses under the new plan.

The Circuit Judges changed the term of the Presiding Justice from one year to six months, and Judge Wood will succeed Judge Valliant next January.

WASHINGTON, July Is.—Mr. J. M. Serrano of Valparaiso, Chili, manager of the International Railway connecting Chili and Bollvia, is in Washington and gives interesting information of the status of affairs in that section, where rumors of war have been prevalent of late years. Mr. Serrano says:

"The greatest interest in Chill just now is in the currency conversion law resulting in a gold basis which went into operation on June 1. It has proved very satisfactory in operation and gives promise of changing the rate of exchange so that the balance of trade will turn toward Chili. Both gold and silver are coined, and the old paper money continues to be used by many who prefer it on account of convenience. But the Government always stands ready to redeem the paper in gold, so that there is an actual coin backing for all of our money."

"Before I left Chill," continued Mr. Serrano, "there was talk of trouble between Feru and Ecuador over their boundary, but there was no intimation that Bollvia would join Ecuador against Peru as a recent representative stated."

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 15.—
Profa. Burrill and Davenport of the University of Illinois claim to have discovered by accident a remarkable phenomenon in the Garden of the Gods. They say that if a person places himself near the center of the east side of the rock, north of the entrance, and another stands upon the hill opposite, across the valley, a distance of about a third of a mile, conversation can be easily conducted by them. They lowered their voices as much as possible and were able to hear each other very distinctly.

DOUBLE SORROW

Hattie Rohmann Loses Lover and Father in One Day.

MICHAELIS' SUICIDE.

Died by Poison in Tower Grove Park While His Fiancee Stood by the Sudden Death-Bed of Her Father.

Black crepe hanging upon the door of the little white cottage at the end of the Comp-ton avenue electric line, just at the en-trance to Tower Grove Park, on Magnolia avenue, signifies more than the ordinary mourning represented by that emblem of wos. In this little cottage lives Miss Hat-tie Rohmann, to have been maried Sunday to Emil Michaelis, who committed suicide wedding day.

As if there were not enough of sorrow at one tme the hand of Fate fell still more heavily upon the young girl, her father dy-ing suddenly of cholera morbus early the

This story of Miss Rohmann's woe is all filled with romance and love and suited, and all the rapid climaxes that can follow upon each other.

Miss Hattle Rohmanni is the young and prepossesing daughter of Gardener Herman Rohmann, who lived at 4067 Magnolia avenue. Passengers on the Compton Heights division of the Lindell Railway Line will remember the little white cottage on the north side of Magnolia avenue, just east of the waiting payilion at Tower Grove Park entrance. There is where Miss Rohmann ives. She is tall, of good proportions, and has a fair complexion, with blue eyes and ight blonde hair. She is of the German type of beauty.

light blonde hair. She is of the German type of beauty.

Emil Michaelis was about 30 years old, was of stalwart frame, and was passably good looking. He was temperate in his habits, industrious and frugal. His home was formerly at Hermann, Mo. where he lived on a farm. Three years ago Miss Rohmann went to Hermann to visit friends. There she first met Mr. Michaelis, and it was a case of love at first sight. An engagement followed, and Sunday was set for the wedding day. The ceremony was to have been performed at Mount Calvary Episcopal Church, Jefferson ond Lafayette avenues, and Rev. P. W. Fauntleroy was to have officiated.

After the marriage the happy couple were Michaelis left Hermann, Mo., some time ago and located in St. Louis, where he could be in the society of his sweetheart. He had several hundred dollars saved from hard work on the farm, and he bought a saloon, owned by Ernest A. Bitter, corner of Walsh and Twenty-first streets. He paid $400 in cash, and gave his note for $250, for the leasehold, stock and fixtures. He took possession April 26, and the next day a mortgage on the saloon was foreclosed. Michaelis asserted that he did not know that such a mortgage was in existence, and he applied for a warrant charging that he had been swindled by Bitter. Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Johnson refused to grant the warrant.

been swindled by Bitter. Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Johnson refused to grant the warrant.

Michaelis became despondent over the loss of the money he had placed in the saloon, and especially because he found himself without funds on the eve of his wedding. But the preparations for the wedding continued, nevertheless, as Miss Robmann did not allow financial considerations to alter her adoration for her lover.

Michaelis called on his fiancee last Thursday evening, and when he left at an early hour he said he would return later. He did not appear again that evening, and Miss Robmann was worfied with fears that he had met foul play. He could not be found the next day, and she notified the police of his disappearance. She told the police that her lover might have been murdered, because he had several dollars and a valuable watch when he left her Thursday evening. The police, locking at the facts on the surface, did not hesitate to express an opinion that Michaelis had left the city to avoid marrying Miss Rohmann.

opinion that Michaelis had left the city to avoid marrying Miss Rohmann.

While the police were instituting a search for Michaelis over the city he could have been found, singular to say, in Tower Grove Park, in sight of the gardener's little white cottage. Night Watchman Mullins was making his rounds in the park at 3 o'clock Sunday morning when he saw a man stroiling along the graveled walks, but believing the man was a resident of the neighborhood, the watchman passed on and said nothing. At 8 o'clock Sunday morning, five hours later, Mullins saw the same man sitting on a bench near the band stand in Tower Grove Park. He was writhing in agony, and told the watchman he was suffering from acute pain in the stomach. The watchman notified the Tower Grove Park Palice Station, and two officers soon arrived in a patrol wagon. But the man was dead before the patrol reached him. The watchman was gone and the man was found lying under a clump of bushes, with his hat over his face, and his vest and coat lying on the grass a few feet away. His face was distorted and revealed evidence that the man had taken poison.

The body was taken to the Morgue, where it was identified by articles found on the clothing as that of Emil Michaelis. A note in one of the pockets read: "Please inform Mrs. Henze, 3107 California avenue." This woman is a sister of the dead man. In the pockets was also found a policy issued by the Prudential Insurance Co. for 1,000 on the life of Emil Michaelis, in favor of himself.

park only a few hundred yards away early Sunday morning, was standing by the death bed of her father at the same hour. Herman Rohmann, the gardener, had become ill in the afternoon with cholera morbus. As he was 66 years old he succumbed to the attack and died at 3 o'clock Sunday morning. At this same hour Michaelis was wandering in the park hard by with the poison in his pocket, ready to commit swicide.

Miss Rohmann, already worried over the disappearance of her lover on the day set for the wedding, became prostrated with grief over the death of her father. She became hysterical. At 9 o'clock Sunday morning she was aroused from a troubled sleep and told the sad truth that her lover had committed suicide. The poor girl fainted away and when she revived vowed that she would end her own life, as her cup of sorrow was too bitter for her to stand.

A special train of ten coaches over the Wabash Railroad brought in the members of the 1st Regiment, N. G. M., from Moberly, Mo., where they had spent the week in encampment at the Fair Grounds, with Col. Batdorf in command.

Thursday a sham battle was fought with Cos. G, F and D in the fort and Cos. H, A and B the attacking force. Co. H won the "tug of war." The highest score in the target practice was made by Acting-Sergeant Maj. Joseph Bather of Co. A. He scored 67 points out of a possible 75, entitling him to the prise medal. Cos. H. G and F and the 1st Regiment Band gave a mock parade Friday night, and the boys were invited to a number of entertainments given by the residents of Moberly in their honor.

The weather was favorable throughout the encampment, there being no rain until Saturday.

At 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the funeral services will be held over the remains of Herman Rohmann at St. John's German Evangelical Lutheran Church, on Morgan Ford road, near Chippewa street. Rev. Herman Bartels will officiate.

At the inquest upon Michaelis' body was introduced, as found on the person of the docased by the police, a pass-book showing an account which Michaelis formerly had with the National Brewery. On one of the back pages of this book was written the following:

at $13 and $15 Cass avenue, some time during Saturday night or Sunday. The combination lock was kapocked out and the heavy steel door blown off with powder.

No money was taken, unless it may have been some small change left in the safe by Mr. Ruzicka Saturday evening. Two sets of expensive dies, some whips and tools were stolen. The clock in the office was stopped at 4:30, indicating that the safe was blown at that hour. Whether it was Sunday morning or afternoon or Monday morning is not known, but as there was no evidence of a light having been used it is thought that the job was done Sunday afternoon.

Ruzicka had three wagons finished for delivery Saturday, and whoever cracked the safe evidently knew all about it, and expected to find the money received for them. Without any particular reason for doing so, Ruzicka put the money in his pocket, and, for the first time in many weeks, there was no cash in the safe.

The strong box was cracked by working powder through the broken combination. Tools were taken from the carriage shop to break the lock with. While the manner in which the job was accomplished shows a pretty thorough knowledge of safe-cracking the police do not believe it was done by professionals.

NO CONCESSIONS TO MONOPOLY.

It is only on the theory that any con cession from monopoly is a victory that congratulations can be tendered the Manufacturers' Association for the compromise effected with the Terminal combine in the matter of switching charges in the Belt Line ordinance.

Of course, a maximum limit of $2 is better than one of $2.50 or $3, but it is double the legal rate fixed by the general law. The concession is in reality all on the side of the city. To embody this compromise in the ordinance would be to grant a special favor in the matter of charges to a combine which has violated law and charter obligations to squeeze

HOW THE CHANGE IS MADE.

It is not easy to say whether the New York Evening Post, in the copious misinformation it is publishing regarding "the decline of the silver craze," is deceiving its readers or is itself deceived. The Post-Dispatch has already pointed out a number of instances in which it has misled the people or been itself misled. Here is another. In one of last week's issues it directs attention editorially to what it called "a fact of great significance," namely, the number of prominent newspapers in the uth that have changed from free silver to advocacy of the single gold standard. As examples it cites the Nashville American, the Vicksburg Commercial-Herald. and the Little Rock Gazette. It says that while these newspapers "have changed to the right side, not one case has been reported of a change the other way."

As the Evening Post does not know, or at least does not give the explanation these "changes," the Post-Dispatch will igain yesterday the Sunday Post-Dissatch was in the lead. It contained 72 olumns of paid advertising, as compared with 66 in the Sunday Republic and with 49 columns in the corresponding Sunday issue of last year, a gain of 47 per cent. Of the announcements of our local retail merchants there were 41 columns in the Sunday Post-Dispatch, as compared with 32 columns in the Sunday Republic. Of reading matter and illustrations there were 181 columns in the Sunday Post-Dispatch, 156 columns in the Sunday Globe-Democrat and 156 columns in the Sunday Republic. In the matter of pictures the Sunday Post-Dispatch is admittedly without a rival, and yesterday they were particularly fine. Under these circumstances it is not surprising that the Sunday Post-Dispatch goes into more St. Louis homes than the Globe-Democrat and Republic combined.

THE LIBERAL ROUT.

The result of the elections so far held in England indicates not merely a Conservative victory, but a Liberal rout.

If the reports of London correspondents are trustworthy the Conservatives will sweep the country. The Liberals will be "snowed under." It seems to be agreed that the cause of this is popular indifference to the result, owing to lack of faith in the genuineness of Liberal professions. The party is not honestly committed to a great principle which appeals to the popular enthusiasm. In consequence the Conservatives have opportunity to use their money and influence with tremen-

The British, struggle is an excellen illustration of the real contest that is going on in all countries where the people have a voice in the government. The contest is between the money power and the people. Whenever the people are not aroused by an appeal in behalf of a great and beneficent principle, when the elections degenerate into a mere struggle between politicians for the offices, the party of the money power wins three times out of four. The Democrats in this country, like the Liberals of Great Britain, have little chance of winning unless they are fighting for a principle under leaders in whom they have confidence. TEXAS NOT FOR PRIZE FIGHTS.

When arrangements were made to hold the Corbett-Fitzsimmons mill at Dallas during the State Fair the Post-Dispatch expressed the opinion that the prize fight would not be permitted at that time and

We expressed the belief that the people of Texas would protest against the degradation of their State by making it the rendezvous of thugs and the fighting ground of sluggers. We said they would protest against turning their State Fair into an orgy of brutality. We insisted, despite the contrary assertions of the speculators in charge of the mill, that ample law could be found in the Texas statute book to stop the fight and that the authorities would enforce the law. The Post-Dispatch was right as to the sentiment of the Texas people and also excellent prospect that our prediction as to the action of the authorities will prove correct. Vigorous popular protests have been sent to the authorities demanding that the fight be prevented. Atty.-Gen. Crane has prepared an opinion for County Attorney Gillespie of Dallas declaring fight contrary to law and instructing him that the law must'be enforced. There is nothing for County Attorney Gillespie to do but enforce the law and avert the threatened disgrace of the The people of Texas will support him in this action.

THE COMBINE'S BULWARK OF DOUBTS.

It appears impossible to resolve Atty.-Gen. Walker's doubts as to the propriet of his proceeding against the Terminal combine of this city for violation of law.

When the Post-Dispatch several weeks ago called upon the Attorney-General to proceed against the Terminal combine as a violator of the laws of Missouri, he could find no law which it had violated except the anti-trust law, and that law did not empower him to initiate pros-

The Post-Dispatch pointed out that the anti-railroad combine law spec forbade a combine or pool of railroads in this State and expressly charged the Attorney-General with its enforcement, but Mr. Walker could not see his obliga-tion. He was doubtful about the viola-tion of that law and could find no time to examine the facts.

But now the anti-trust law has been amended exactly as Atty-Gen. Walker said it was necessary to amend it in order to enable him to enforce it. The Legislature at the last session inserted a provision empowering and commanding the Attorney-General to prosecute violators of the law. But Atty.-Gen. Walker is still in doubt. He is ignorant of the facts. He knows nothing except what the newspapers is so busy that he has no time to invest gate. How to Make the Sailor a Joy Forever. How to Make the Sailor a Joy Forever.

To make the sailor hat of greater value to the summer wardrobe it is necessary to have several ribbon bands to match the various frocks. This is the clever idea of a young belie who is always well gowned, and who does this at a small expense. For instance, with a pure white toilet of duck a white sailor hat with a white band is correct, and with a pale or dark blue it is the same rule of fashion which applies. This changing of the band makes it appear as though it were a new hat, whereas the cost of the band is a small expense. Make the band with a piece of elastic inside to fit, so that it will slip over the crown of the hat easily. The narrow corded ribbon is now most in vogue.

Suppose the negroes of this city should emigrate to the East, the Northwest or the North Central States and find employment at remunerative wages, what then? Would not the colored population of other cities move there too in order to partake of the good things offered in those places? How long would it be before the rural colored brethren would descend an masse upon such localities? No. emigration of the negroes is not the remedy to better their condition. Barring a few insignificant localities, a "nigger" is a "nigger" the United States over, and treated as an inferior being.

doing justice to themselves and Mr. Bradley's town to leave the work partly

The Denver Indians established a precdent by being out after midnight. No one a Asbury Park had ever done that before.

Saturday night they found more people willing to follow their example.

During the night the "dollar-a-day" dialogue was flashed back and forth and a new slogan was added. The Denver vistiors, who are especially well dressed and who looked prosperous, howled it over town until it was heard almost as much as "Hello, Bill." "Down with the aristoctacy!" was the cry. It was given so fiercely that it made people who heard it for the first time jump. After they had declared that they would not work for $i a day more times than they could count they began to sing. The long verses indicated that a gold lover was singing. This is the chorus of

They went to the beach and carried some of Mr. Bradley's "truly wonderful statuary" up into the town, singing and yelling as they went along. They made such a racket during the early Sunday hours that some citizens, who had lived in Asbury Park'all its life and never dreamed that any morning hour could be so desecrated, protested in loud, indignant voices. The crowd turned upon them.
"Down with the aristocracy" they shrieked. "We won't work for a dollar a day."

Another time they shouted in short, jerky words: "We-have-troubles-of-our-own."

After a time they went after the animal cage, mounted in a wagon. They found a rope somewhere, and there were enough of them to draw the cage into Asbury avenue from the pier. Men were thrown into the cage and told to perform. Some of the crowd poked the victims with stones, while the others danced around like frensied Indians, whooping, howling and yelling with all their might. Two men who had made themselves unpopular were hauled out of hotel beds and placed in the cage.

People from the hotels, boarding-houses and from the cottages left their bedsides to see what was going on. Asbury Park was at last awakened. In the small hours of Sunday morning, a day that is so strictly observed in the town that railroad trains are not allowed to stop there, a band of wild Westerners, assisted by willing Easterners, had aroused the place from its Sabbath caim. The crowd went to bed at daylight exhausted, but proud and happy.

According to the Chicago Inter-Ocean, it can be authoritatively stated that John L. Sullivan will second James J. Corbett in the prize fight at Dallas, Tex., on Oct. 31 next. By token of the same source of information, it is given out as a fact that James J. Corbett will hand over to John L. Sullivan the title and belt emblematic of the champion-ship of the world before the present owner of both belt and title "puts up his hands" against the man from Gornwall, England. While the writer cannot divulge the source of his information, it is safe to guarantee that John L. Sullivan will wield the towel over the present champion, and that he will advise and counsel him in his go against the tail vanquisher of Dempsey, of McCarthy, of Choynski, of Maher and of Hall. It is equally positive that before the men come together a new diamond belt, valued at 8,000, and donated by Richard K. FLEETWOOD PARK MEETING.

The Gate Assessment Has Been Set at the Democratic Half-Dollar. NEW YORK, July 15 .- Fleetwood gates will be thrown open to-morrow for a three days' harness race meeting on a more pop-ular basis than any driving club of New York has ever attempted.

There are 150 horses named for the nine purses, and, under the circumstances, there will be very few absentees when the bell rings. Fleetwood and Parkville stables are very numerously represented and from the cilp shown by local steppers lately, there is certainly going to be some fast time made.

LIBERAL LEADERS

Three Others May Be Shelved With Harcourt.

LOOKS LIKE A WATERLOO

Returns Show the Election of 105 Con servatives, 16 Unionists and 11 Liberals.

NEW YORK, July 15.—A dispatch to the Vorld from London to-day says: The defeat of Sir William Vernon Har The defeat of Sir William Verson Harcourt is very likely to be followed by that of three other leading members of the Rossbery cabinet. Herbert Asquith, Campbell-Bannerman and John Morley hold their seats by small majorities, and all the present indications are that close seats will be uniformly carried by the Unionists. It is the English custom when a party leader is beaten for some obscure supporter who has a seat to offer it to the defeated one. But this is always a loss of prestige to the

It looks like a Liberal Waterice. But Mr. Chamberlain's faction is only a little less disappointed than the Liberals, for if there is to be, as it seems likely now, a Unionist majority in the next House of above 100, the Tory section can almost afford to ignore the Liberal-Unionist vote. It is certain that the Tories would do so ikely that K. Hardy, the labor repesentative, will be defeated by the active ostility of the Irish voters in his con-

In Ireland the situation is deplorable. Of course, there was the Redmond split to begin with and now Timothy Healy has fatally divided the McCarthyite party. The really patriotic Irish leaders to-day are hopeless. Sexton, the ablest of them, certainly will retire in disgust. Redmond, owing to Healy's redent attacks on his own associates, is likely to capture two seats in Cork next week. Daly, who was elected in Limerick the other day, is in the Portland Prison for dynamite outrages and he will be denied a seat.

Of the 110 members thus far elected % are Unionists, 10 Liberals and four Parnellites.

CANDIDATES RETURNED.

LONDON, July 15.—The Unionist candidates for the following seats have been returned without opposition:

Somerst—West, or Wellington division, Capt. Sir A. Ackland-Hood, Bart.; Bridgewater division, E. J. Stanley.

Devonshire—East, or Honiton division, Sir J. Kennaway, Bart.

Kent—West or Sevan Oaks division, H. W. Forester: South or Ashford division, L. Hardy; Isle of Thant division, Rt. Hon. J. Lowther.

Cheshire—Knutsford division, Hon A. De

Col. A. R. Lockwood.
Nottinghamshire—Newark division, Hon.
H. Finch-Hatton.
Dorset—East division, Hon. H. H. Stuart.
Gloucestershire—North or Tewesbury division, Sir J. E. Dorington, Bart.
Staffordshire—Hendsworth division, Sir H. Meyesy-Thompson, Bart.
Middlesex—Bridge division, Sir F. Dixon-Hartland, Bart.
Hampshire—South, or Fareham division, Lieut.-Gen. Sir F. W. Fitswygram, Bart.
Hertfordshire—West, or Walford division, Thomas Frederick Halsey.
Edinburgh—St. Andrew's Universities, Rt. Hon. Sir C. G. Pearson, Q. C.
The Unionist candidate for the east division of Down was also returned.
The returns thus far received show the election of 105 Conservatives, 16 Unionists, 11 Liberals, 4 Parnellites and 3 McCarthylites.

WORKING THE JAYS.

Paul Gerhardt and Raiph Numan Found It a Little Difficult.

Paul Gerhardt and Raiph Numan arrived from New York a few days ago, and proceeded to work the inhabitants of this "jay town," as they regarded it. It was not so easy as they expected. Gerhardt called on H. A. Johnson of the New York Life Insurance Company Saturday and applied for work. He told the usual hard luck story, and professed to be proficient in six languages. Mr. Johnson gave Gerhardt addresses of friends and told him to call Monday. Then Gerhardt asked for a little money for immediate necessities. Johnson gave him a dime. Gerhardt demurred and thought his story entitled him to a dollar anyway.

Mr. Johnson found a gold watch at the end of the beggar's chain and threw out the suggestion that he might make a raise on it. Gerhardt said the watch cost $35 and he could not think of disposing of it for the paltry amount of $5 offered him by a pawnbroker.

Then Gerhardt left. Outside he was Paul Gerhardt and Ralph Numan arrived broker.

Then Gerhardt left. Outside he was joined by his pal, Ralph Numan. Gerhardt showed the ten cents, they laughed jointly at the ease with which the St. Louis lays were worked. Gerhardt tore up the addresses given him and they started to rush the hard luck story in several languages elsewhere. Mr. Johnson called a policeman.

Journeymen Meet in New York and Agree to Go on Strike.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Delegates of the Brotherhood of Tallors from 630 shops, one from each shop, met from each shop, and the stripe of their to represent the restiment of their from each shop, met last night in Walhalla. Hall to represent the sentiment of their fellow-workers regarding the proposed gararal strike. All the delegrates reported and finely entire the new agreement and that the workers were in favor of striking. The meeting indorsed the strike and voted unanimously to place the full management in the hands of Meyer Schoenfeld, and the Executive Committee of the Brotherhood. Schoenfeld said last night: "We are pledged to reveal to no one the day on which the strike will begin, so that the besses will not have any advantage. In fact, the time will not be known until five minutes before the strike is ordered. While this strike is for a new agreement with better wages and conditions, we shall make it the opportunity for wiping the sweat shop system out of existence. Of the 3,00 members of the union, about 1,500 are at present working in the tenements under the sweat shop system. We will on on account settle with the employers of these people, as the sweat shop system would continue if we did. We are tired of waiting for the factory inspectors to put an end to the system and are going to end it ourselves at one blow."

FOREST FIRE LOSSES.

About $200,000 Worth of Property Burned in Michigan. THOMPSONVILLE, Mich., July 15.—Reorts from the various districts in which orest fires have been raging the past forest fires have been raging the past week indicate that while the flames are spreading, they are not as serious as they were. If the rain comes to-day, of which there is every prospect, the danger will have passed. A careful estimate of the losses to settlers and lumbermen aggregates about $300,000. The people of Wallin, who are completely burned out, are in a sad condition. They have lost homes, clothing, everything except their lives, and are dependent upon charity for food and clothes. They are being provided for, but as the fire sufferers number over 100, the village is sorely taxed. Most of them will go back to Wallin with the lumber company, which intends to rebuild its plant. As far as known, not a life has been lost, though scores are suffering from serious burns incurred in fighting the flames. Live stock has suffered much and extensive damage has been done to standing timber, but much of this will be saved by immediorganization Committee's Plans.

PEORIA, Ill., July 15.—J. B. Greenhut, who represents his father during the latter's absence in New York, says the demand made by the lessors of distillery land are going to knock out the reorganization committee's plans. Mr. Greenhut said: "The reorganization committee cannot help realizing that, in view of the decision of the Supreme Court of the State, all the leases are declared null, and I do not think they have an idea they have the right to sell or transfer these leases. Every lessor is entitled to and will have his lease canceled, and the only way the reorganization committee can expect to get around the matter is to buy the ground, which they are unable to do on account of the stockholders which had been well nigh exhausted. He did not think that the stockholders would submit to another. He emphasizes his opinion that lively times are ahead, and expects the lessors will secure their property in the end.

BODY CUT TO PIECES.

An Unknown Man Dragged Two Miles Under a Train.

MONETT, Mo., July 15 .- An unknown man about 30 years old was killed about a mile west of here by a special stock train at 5 o'clock this afternoon. It is supposed he was riding on the bumpers. The body was dragged by the train about two miles and literally cut to pieces. Every particle of clothing was torn from the body and scattered all along the road. Not enough of the body was left together by which it might be identified, the scalp was torn back to the neck, and the face and skull crushed. Nothing was found about his clothing by which to identify him. He was short, heavy-set, with dark auburn hair and mustache. It said the hat-band had the initials "A. C." on it. GOTHAM'S DRY SUNDAY. There Was More Moisture Yesterday Than a Week Ago.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The excise law NEW YORK, July 15.—The excise law was enforced in a way yesterday. Mr. Roosevelt doubtless is just as much in earnest, but the police are getting tired. All of the off platoon were on duty, sleepy and discontented that they should be assigned to so distasteful a duty. It was dry, but not as dry as it was last Sunday or the Sunday before. The saloonkeepers took more chances. The lookouts at the side doors admitted not only the customers, but those who seemed to be all right, who did not seem to be sples. seemed to be all right, who did not seem to be spies.

Taken altogther, the enforcement of this law, to which the whole power of the police force has been directed, could not have been pleasing to Mr. Roosevelt.

Of twenty-nine cities in New York State, in only five was there any pretense of rigid enforcement of the excise law. In seven, even the front doors of the saloons were open. In seventeen the side doors only were frankly open.

RIFLES FOR CUBANS.

Webb of Brooklyn has returned from Washington, where he has been trying to secure some of the small arms which are being replaced by the new magasine rifle for use in the army. If the Captain's negotiations with the War Department are successful, the condemned rifles will find their way into the hands of the Cuban revolutionists. That is admitted by Webb, and the local representatives of the Cubans do not deny it. The Captain says: "It may surprise our Spanish friends to know that small arms intended for Cuba are being sent out of Brooklyn and New York at the rate of about $400 every week. Correspondents report that the yield will not exceed six bushels in Lac qui Parle and Swift Counties, and will be but little better in Big Stone County. It is very dry in Chicago, Pine and Anoka Counties—the Minnesota potato belt—and the yield will be very small unless rain comes within the next three days. Charles A. DR. MOSER'S DISCOVERY.

A Pathological Truth That Upsets Some Old Theories.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Wm. M. Moser, M. D., pathologist at St. Catharine's Hospital, is credited with a discovery in path-is fast upsetting many cherished theories and explaining many hitherto inexplicable phenomena.

Dr. Moser, who is only 29 years old, was graduated in 1888 from the New York University, and from the University of Berlin a few years later. He at first refused to discuss the discovery, but finally, in reference to it, said:

"The blood consists of red and white cells. It has long been known that the white cells possess during life the property of locomotion. It is analogous to that seen in the infusoria, known as the Amoeba. This creature is made up of a felly-like mass, and when about to move sends out from any portion of its body an elongated process. The body then passes into this protruded portion, and in this way the creature moves about. To this jelly-like mass Huxley has given the name of protoplasm. The red and white blood cells are made up of this substance—protoplasm. While it has long been demonstrated that the white blood cells, when kept at the temperature of the living body, exhibit movement-similar to that of the amoeba, I have only recently shown that red blood cells had been in the shape of the red blood cells had been intoted, they were generally regarded as characteristic of certain diseases, and not as a physiological process, or a manifestation of the cell while alive, until, in St.

"Dr. Leonard of Philadelphia was the first to reproduce these movements by means of photography. These movements of the red blood cells were first detected while I was experimenting with methyl blue. This coloring matter was given internally for the purpose of getting the red cells stained during life and results were obtained which suggested that they contained a nucleus as well as being possessed of amochoid movement. While the latter observation has been proved, the former remains sub judice. It was formerly thought that the red blood cells were merely pushed through the blood vessels, but now we know that they pass through the vessels by an inherent movement of their own." The knowledge of this fact, now generally accepted as true, has helped materially to explain certain conditions of diseases hitherto either misunderstood or unex

The boy had an aversion to medicine and as an inducement his father promised to give him a cent for every dose he would take. The boy went to where the medicine was and in his innocence took ten teaspoonfuls of it in order to get a dime. He died before medical attendance could be had.
